

President's Message

The publication of the Nash Community College catalog is a compilation of information about programs and services. Prospective, and current students, use the contents to make decisions concerning all aspects of college matriculation. The catalog is not a stand-alone product. Albeit very useful, it is only as good as the faculty and staff that personify each section or heading. Nash takes great pride in helping students navigate task of enrollment. This is true for the recent high school graduate or an individual wanting to make a career change. No matter the circumstances, it is job one to insure students that education is always the right choice.

Since 1967, Nash Community College has been an integral part of the tradition of total education. Industry partnerships, innovative technology and best pedagogical practices brings a focus to student success. The previous year was one of celebration as the College received recognition and confirmation of the mission in many ways. It is the interaction of a committed faculty exhibiting intellectual curiosity and scholastic acumen that helps create an exceptional learning environment. Students choosing Nash become part of a group of determined learners.

As President, I am excited about new programs that are now part of these pages to include Veterinary Medical Technology and Broadcasting and Production Technology that are joining other signature programs. Students will find the doors of this campus to be open to providing opportunities for graduates to become productive members of North Carolina's vibrant economy. This is why it is proudly said, "Careers are Born Here".

Sincerely,

William S. Carver, II, Ed.D.
President
